Cleanup and recovery from Hurricane Michael has been slow, costly and ongoing.

Governor Ron DeSantis moved forward with one of his campaign promises today [Thursday]: He issued an executive order telling the Florida Department of Education to get rid of the Common Core standards.

A proposal to extend the Suncoast Parkway north from Citrus County to the Georgia state line was announced this week by new state Senate President Bill Galvano of Bradenton

Shriners Hospitals For Children will stop offering in-patient care at its Tampa location starting in August.

For the past 93 years, the Tampa Theatre has hosted thousands of movies, concerts and other events.

New state Senate President Bill Galvano this week announced he'll push legislation to extend the Suncoast Parkway north from its terminus in Citrus County to the Georgia state line

Shriners Hospitals For Children will stop offering in-patient care at its Tampa location starting in August.

The leaders of both state government chambers say legislation to ban fracking in Florida will come up this session

The Tampa Theatre is viewed as a community staple

Authorities in the Florida Panhandle say scam artists are targeting Hurricane Michael survivors who are in search of rental homes

Blue Origin has inked a deal to launch hundreds of satellites from Florida's Space Coast.

Tyndall Air Force Base in Florida's Panhandle isn't the first military installation to dig itself out of a major Hurricane.

Governor Ron DeSantis announced yet another executive order on education Thursday.
